

Dr. Ananya Ghoshal has joined the School of Humanities and Social Sciences at IIT Indore in January 2018 as an Assistant Professor of English. Ananya received her doctorate from the Department of English Literature at the English and Foreign Languages University (formerly CIEFL), Hyderabad on the influence of music in postcolonial literature. Her pre-doctoral research was conducted in the Department of English at the University of California, Berkeley, on a Fulbright-Nehru Fellowship. Her primary areas of interest include Word and Music Studies, Narratives of the Anthropocene (Environmental Humanities), Performance Studies, Digital Public Humanities and Visual Culture. She is also currently involved in a couple of projects that intersect with graphics, poetry, photography, and filmmaking in relation to the discourses of emerging media technologies. At IIT Indore Ananya teaches courses on Communication and Twentieth Century Literature.

Ananya has presented her research at various universities in India and abroad and has published several journal articles and book chapters. She also mentors Fulbright aspirants and graduate students with USIEF and Education USA. Before coming to IIT Indore Ananya was an Academic Fellow at the Forum on Contemporary Theory & Balvant Parekh Centre for General Semantics and Other Human Sciences, Baroda.

Her latest publication is –An Anthropocene Primer, an innovative open access, open peer review publication that guides learners through the complex concepts and debates related to the Anthropocene.

