ABOUT US

The 'AgriHub' is a transdisciplinary, multi-institutional collaborative Centre of Excellence (CoE) that brings stakeholders together to reduce the time taken to innovate, develop and deploy technologies for the benefit of breeders, researchers and farmers with an aim to provide advanced technologies such as high-performance computing and big data analytics for designing crops and implementing AI/ML platforms.

ABOUT WORKSHOP

This workshop aims to bridge the gap between academic research and commercial applications in the agricultural sector. It will bring together researchers, industry experts, and entrepreneurs to discuss innovative approaches for transforming research outcomes into viable commercial solutions. Sessions will cover funding opportunities, technology transfer, intellectual property rights, and industry collaboration, providing participants with valuable insights into accelerating the commercialization of agricultural innovations.
